This national reach reflects the Trust's commitment to providing excellent learning opportunities for every child, regardless of background or location.

At the heart of Ormiston's rich history and the strong values that underpin everything they do, is a simple yet powerful vision: a school system where every child can thrive. The Trust's mission is to ensure every child has excellent learning opportunities, inside and outside of the classroom, which enrich their lives and afford them choice and opportunity in the future.

Our mission is to ensure every child has excellent learning opportunities, inside and outside of the classroom.

creative and reflective thinkers

Although exam results are important, we also value creativity. Ormiston Herman Academy is focused on promoting the skills of enquiry and problem solving, collaboration and teamwork. We don't want your child to be a passive learner, just listening to what we have to say. Instead we strive to help pupils extend their thinking through actively engaging them in thought provoking learning, skilfully supported by the adults in our academy, all of whom are trained to ask questions to stimulate creativity and reflection.

To help pupils understand their own learning, we give them opportunities to assess and reflect on their own progress, as well as that of their peers. At the heart of these opportunities is the promotion of social, emotional, spiritual and cultural understanding.

Respectful and caring citizens

Ormiston Herman Academy promotes an environment that is both caring and supportive of its pupils. Children will develop at different rates and our teaching will always reflect this. We set high expectations for your child to respect themselves, others and the academy environment. Attainment and achievements of all levels are valued and celebrated at our Academy.

Staff and pupils share a sense of community, in which they all feel safe and respected... pupils are clear that being different is celebrated.

It is our intention to provide learning opportunities that enable your child to develop an understanding of cause, effect and responsibility for the choices and actions they take. We ensure that children have opportunities to engage in community projects and to work effectively both inside and outside of the classroom.

High-achieving learners

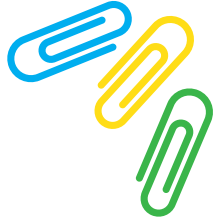

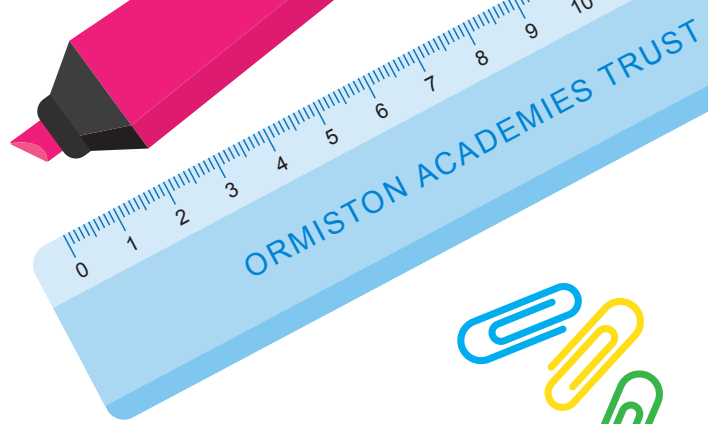

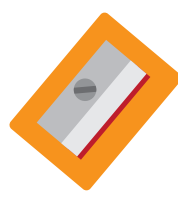

In our lessons we aim to offer challenge and excitement. Lessons are briskly paced so that your child will enjoy doing their very best. We 'teach to the top' with appropriate support and challenge, and promote independence in learning. Our high expectations for behaviours for learning in all aspects of academy life, will keep everyone aiming to do their best. We will ensure that your child knows what their own targets are and what they will have to do to achieve them.

The school is a calm place where pupils behave well.

Learning is assessed rigorously, so we can make sure that it is always progressive. Any gaps in learning will be identified and addressed through prompt intervention so your child has no barriers to their success. Most importantly, attainments and achievements are rewarded so that your child finds that doing their best feels great.

Teachers communicate their expectations very clearly... and promote a very positive 'can do attitude' among pupils by focused use of praise and encouragement.

Confident and skilful communicators

The ability to be able to communicate effectively is the right of every child and an essential skill for their future success in adult life. Therefore, the development of speaking, listening, reading and writing skills is at the heart of all learning at Ormiston Herman Academy.

All staff at the Academy are determined to act as good role models, structuring learning to help our pupils extend their thinking and their vocabulary. We work closely with parents and carers to help you understand our targets and find ways for you to support your child's learning. We expect all children to acquire good skills in communication, including the use of technology. Acquisition of these skills will give them the confidence, motivation and aspiration for the next stage of their education.

Pupils behave well and lessons are calm. There are high expectations in the school, and pupils are polite and welcoming.
