BFG dream jar math's scavenger hunt.

For our math's lesson today, we are going to go on a dream hunt! The BFG has lost all his special dream jars, and we need to find them so everyone can have peaceful dreams tonight!

Around the room there will be hidden dream jars to find. Once you have found jar you need to solve the question to discover the next jar!

Once you have found all 8 jars you can colour your jars!

Challenge

The BFG asks Sophie to help him figure out how many dreams he has in his dream jars.

Can you add the dreams in the jars together to find the total?

TBAT: describe a character.

The BFG is a very tall and gentle giant who lives in Giant Country. He has huge ears that help him hear the quietest sounds, even dreams! His arms and legs are long and thin, and he wears a big black cloak. The BFG speaks in a funny way and makes up his own words, like "snozzcumber" and "froboscottle". Even though he looks a bit scary, he is kind, friendly, and never hurts anyone.

1. What does the BFG use his big ears for?
2. What clothing does the BFG wear?
3. What adjectives in the description show that the BFG is a nice giant?

Explain why and give evidence from the text to say why some people might be afraid of the BFG.

W.A.G.O.L.L

The BFG is a kind, gentle giant with enormous ears and a long, wrinkly face. He listens carefully to the world around him and moves quietly through the night. The BFG catches magical, golden dreams in a shiny glass jar and blows them gently into children's bedrooms.

Unlike the horrible, greedy giants, the BFG never eats people — he only eats a disgusting, slimy vegetable called a snozzcumber. He is brave, funny, and always speaks in a strange, silly way that makes people laugh. He becomes a loyal friend to a clever girl named Sophie, and together, they plan cleverly to stop the other giants.
